	Mel Borofsky I am a stamp collector and have been for close to 70 years. As most “senior” collectors there were some gaps for education, family and military service. I am a seven-year club member having served one two-year term as a member of the CFSC Board. I thoroughly enjoy being involved in the decision making and other inner workings of our club. As an aside from my collecting interests I have shared my expertise in marketing and computer graphic arts by designing the past four FLOREX caches, cancellation designs and other posters. I have also edited and distributed the CFSC “Bourse,” making membership in our club more inviting while providing a free benefit of membership. I promise to serve the Club and our Board to the utmost of my ability.

I have been a life-long stamp collector and since joining the Club I have learned much regarding the art, history and science of philately. I am currently retired after a 40-year career in government and education. 	Stephen Patrick With reasonable good health and a mostly sound mind, I would like to serve the club for two more years on the board. My philatelic interests are varied. If I see it and like it, I'm likely to start collecting it. I belong to the APS, SCCS, GPS Chapter 23, ATA, CS & CSS, ESPER, MSI and MEPSI. (I would join more if I could afford it.) Every organization can use someone with "institutional memory" and my 38 year membership helps fulfill that role for our club. My greatest interest is that we have excellent programs. If elected, I will represent you to the best of my ability.
	Gene Perry My first recollection of stamp collecting is when I was in 5th grade and one of my childhood friend's mother worked at Reader's Digest. She would bring home lots of foreign stamps from correspondence that Reader's Digest received from around the world. My friend and I shared many of these stamps and thus my hobby was born. I started my US collection while a teenager and the US has been my primary interest since then. While stationed in London during the 1980s, I began to collect British stamps with a focus on Machins. I also collected the Royal Wedding issues offered by Stanley Gibbons (Diana and Prince Charles). I consider myself to be an advanced beginner.
