A call to duty from Uncle Sam— write and submit some articles for the CFSC Philatelic Missive.

It could be a cover story or a shorter half page or full page article. Write about something philatelic—interesting to you.

President's Message by Mike Schumacher

Greetings CFSC Members: Hopefully, everyone is keeping cool and having a wonderful year!

- ⇒ Summer has come and gone and now it is fall. How quickly the year is passing by—soon we will be heading into the Holiday Seasons- Halloween; Thanksgiving, Christmas, Hanukah, Kawanza, New Years, etc. .Please don't forget to put together that article that you were thinking about writing for the Philatelic Missive. The newsletter file has been collecting more dust than articles the past couple of months. Still a couple of chances to write that article and have it published before the end of the year (and get in on the voting in January for best article of 2023).
- ⇒ FLOREX—set up day –Thursday November 30th followed by two days of the show Friday December 1st 10:00am to 6:00pm and Saturday December 2nd 10:00am to 4: plans continue to progress—show cachets are ready; 23 dealers currently signed up and 29 competitive exhibit applications have been received-filling 108 frames. Plus 2 non-competitive exhibits. Opportunities to volunteer are still available An exhibit chairperson is still needed! If interested, please let me know. Team work is important to the success of the show.
- ⇒ Once again, THANK YOU to CFSC members who helped staff the registration table and assist in other ways to set up and close the Maitland show on September 9th. A strong showing of CFSC members also in attending the show.
- ⇒ Opportunities for CFSC members to get involved and help the club moving forward into the future are always available. Your skills and talents can be put to good use for the club. If you have computer skills the club could use your help on a variety of projects (i.e. assisting with club meeting auction results recording; etc. etc.) Other skills also needed. Another opportunity always awaits and that is submitting an article for the monthly newsletter. Article submissions have been mighty sparse lately. Submit an article!! Thanks!
- ⇒ Election time approaches for CFSC— current two year terms for the Board members ends in January. So if you are interested in serving on the Board, nominations will be accepted later this year. Board members assist with conducting CFSC business to keep things functioning well and in the best interest of the club and it's membership. It's an opportunity to get involved and help lead the club into the future. More information to follow at upcoming meetings and in the newsletters. If you have an interest in serving on the board and want to know more about what is involved, just ask current board members—Mike Smith, Carlos Guffain, Richard Cohen, Mel Borofsky, Newt Kulp, Stephen Patrick, James Cooney, Jerry Eller or myself. Nominations and candidates' bio's for potential Board members should be submitted to the Election Manager by December 1st.
- ⇒ THANKS: Jeff Small for stepping up and agreeing to be this year's Election Manager! Turn in your nomination forms and bios to Jeff. Please include a photo of yourself with the bio to be used in the January Philatelic Missive.
- ⇒ Another upcoming CFSC opportunity to help the club and it's members to have a good time, is to help with the Holiday Potluck Party at the second meeting in December. (Only 82 days away!) A Planning organizer needed to help coordinate and oversee setup for the meeting.
- ⇒ May CFSC members and their families have a wonderful holiday season!!!

Cover Story: Vestmannaeyjar

By: Mike Schumacher

A person never knows when a new philatelic adventure and opportunity will arise when traveling to a stamp exhibition, such as the recent trip to Nordia 2023 in Iceland in July. I allowed a few extra days after the show to do a bit of traveling around Iceland in areas that I had not been to on previous trips. I especially wanted to visit Vestmannaeyjar, so made plans to do so after Nordia 2023.

Vestmannaeyjar is a group of 15 islands and about 30 rock stacks off the south coast of Iceland. All of the islands have been built up over the years as the result of volcanic eruptions. Surtsey is the newest island formed between 1963-1967 from an underwater volcanic eruption. Heimaey is the only island which is populated (population about 4400).

I was joined in this side trip by David Loe from New Zealand and Armagan Ozdinc from the U.S. At Nordia we learned about a collection of Vestmannaeyjar postal history that was donated to the Library archives. When we arrived in Vestmannaeyjar we inquired about viewing the collection and was provided the opportunity to do so. We all enjoyed the time spent looking through the collection and observed many interesting covers and a wealth of postal history information about Vestmannaeyjar. The following items are just a sampling of the material contained in the collection.

(David and Armagan)

Pictures of Vestmannaeyjar Post Office locations over the years:

These pictures show the post office locations from 1873 to 1875; 1875 to 1883; and 1883 to 1891 respectively. (figure 1)

The pictures below show the post office locations from 1891 to 1896 and 1896 to 1904.

There were more pictures of subsequent post office locations from later years.

Some of the other interesting finds in the collection was information about the various Vestmannaeyjar postmarks, and stamps and covers showing usage of the Vestmannaeyjar cancels.

Howard Koslow—Artist & Stamp Designer:

By Mike Schumacher

If you collect U.S. stamps, then you undoubtably have a number of stamps in your collection designed by Howard Koslow.

Howard Koslow was born Sept. 21, 1924 in Brooklyn N.Y. (died January 25, 2016)

He was a commercial artist, painter and illustrator. He studied art at Pratt Institute in New York and graduated in 1944. He then apprenticed under French artist Jean Carlu. Koslow latter studied painting at the Cranbrook Academy of Art in Bloomfield Hills, Michigan and graphics at the School of Visual Arts in New York.

Before getting into designing U.S. stamps in 1971, he was a commercial artist doing book covers, corporate reports and advertising illustrations. In 1970 a friend suggested he should try his hand at designing postage stamps. Koslow secured his first commission to design the eight-cent stamp commemorating the 10th anniversary of the Antarctic Treaty (an agreement among 12 nations to ensure that their research in the Antarctic should be freely shared and nonmilitary). His early stamp designs were produced by engraving in a linear style using a limited color palate. As his career progressed, he used offset lithography utilizing a larger color range, often working from photographs.

In 1972 he designed his second U.S. stamp—the six-cent National Parks Centennial—Wolf Trap Farm, Virginia.

Koslow designed more than 50 set, but was so popular it resulted in the creation of five more sets of lighthouses from around the country); the signing of the Constitution, Carnegie

U.S. stamps during his 40+ year career. Stamp subjects included: the lighthouse series (which started out as a one time

> Hall, the Brooklyn Bridge, Ellis Island and from the Legends of American Music series he designed blues and jazz masters—Robert Johnson, Bessie Smith, Muddy Waters, Ma Rainey, Jimmy Rushing, Howlin' Wolf, Billie Holiday and Mildred Bailey.

Howard Koslow is also known for his paintings of Apollo 15, the first launch of the space shuttle Endeavour and many others. His paintings can be seen at the Air Force Academy in Denver, CO; the National Air and Space Museum in Washington D.C. and the NASA Art Gallery at the Space Center in Cape Canaveral, Florida.

National Parks Centennial

In 1991, Koslow also designed the 30th anniversary Antarctic Treaty fifty-cent stamp.

The collection of course contained material related to the 1973 eruption of Eldfell where most of the population of 5200 residents had to be evacuated in the middle of the night. The lava and ash covered nearly one-fifth of the town and closed off part of the harbor entrance before it stopped. (figure 10)

In 1975, Iceland issued two stamps and a special postmark to commemorate the 1973 Eldfell volcanic eruption. (figure 11)

The items shown in this articles only provides a small sample of the material contained in the collection in the archives at the library. What a wonderful opportunity this visit to Vestmannaeyjar turned out to be!

Questionable eBay, # 12 Ridiculous - By Francis Ferguson

Listing: US 5c Gray Brown, Special Printing (205C). light cancel. 5c Gray Brown, Special Printing (205C). almost perfectly centered deep rich color and proof-like impression I DONT HAVE A CERT BUT I AM PRETTY SURE IT IS A 205C. Starting bid of $5,000. Shipping charge of $100 & return policy of 30 days. Listing from Australia.

Scott's CV of $50,000. Here is the note in the catalog: "Although Post Office records indicate that 2,463 examples of the 5c Garfield Special Printing were sold, almost all of these stamps appear to have been from supplies of the regular issue No. 205. The actual Special Printings, No. 205C, came from a small supply sent to the Third Assistant Post Master General before the regular issue was available. Only 22 examples have been certified as genuine Special Printings. While use of the No. 205C for postage was legal, no used examples are recorded."

Where to begin? Could this possibly be a Special Printing of No. 205C? It is remotely possible -- but highly unlikely. To think this could be a gem is fantasy in my opinion.

I own a special printing of No. 211B and it has a very particular look – it is very tough to make that determination from even a high-resolution scan. One simply must see the "patient" in person to have any realistic chance of identification.
